

Introduction

Sometimes when reading the Bible, we like to skip over the minor prophets because they are usually filled with judgements and justice. While they can be hard to read, they are also full of hope because they remind us that Christ will come and make all things new.

This month we will be reading through the books Zephaniah, Haggai, Zechariah, and Malachi. These books give us a great look at two of aspects of God- His justice and His love. They don't minimize sin and it's impact on our lives and the lives of those around us. But they also help us to see that God's plan is bigger and they allow us to hope for the coming Kingdom where everything will be healed.

While You Read

Read each chapter slowly and carefully. Underline, highlight or mark anything that stands out to you. Look for examples of God's justice and His love. Make a list of these things in your journal as you go.

Take time as you read to journal and reflect on what you learned. Write down any questions you have or things that you want to learn more about. Then find a time to talk to a parent, small group leader, or pastor about those things.
